Coaching at the Core

In today's age of complexity, challenge, and change, each of us are called to develop a greater understanding of what is happening in the world and to integrate our inner and outer realities in meaningful ways. For coaches, this path of integration is our opportunity to deepen an inclusive wisdom that incorporates our intuition and vision. In Coaching at the Core, an extraordinary relationship between coach and client emerges, creating a springboard for high-performance and a deepened sense of self-awareness.

Coaching at the Core is based on wisdom of the ages and articulated within the recent exploration of the Integral Approach in business systems, synchronicity, presence, quantum physics, and the new neurosciences exploring cellular memory. The program honors the highest states of essential human nature, and as a result of this heightened sensitivity, we gain a new connection with the life around us. New practical ways of being and doing then emerge that are spiritually and profoundly tied to the synchronicities in our life.

The transformation delivered in Coaching at the Core is a blend of our intuitive, cognitive, and sensorial capacities. This new system of self-reflection expands and deepens the context of our life. Working at this level of presence, we are able to clearly hear and trust our inner wisdom, sense possible solutions, and honor the embedded values in the realities that surround us by seeing from the place of heart and soul.

Coaching at the Core enables you to:

- identify, develop, expand, and step into your unique presence
- broaden and integrate your innate intuitive capacities
- move into a state of shared wisdom by tapping into the intuitive potential within groups and working teams
- communicate your wisdom from your sense of purpose and that of your clients

WHO SHOULD PARTICIPATE:

This program is recommended for executive coaches and individuals who want to bring high levels of functioning and performance to their work, communication, and interpersonal relationships.

THE LEARNING ELEMENTS:

Coaching at the Core is a professional coaching program drawn from the wisdom of indigenous cultures, Eastern and Western philosophies, exploration in the new Integral Approach, and the new sciences. The Coaching at the Core breakthrough approach covers four focus areas:

1. Presence and Self-Awareness: helping clients to move into a sense of their own signature presence by developing a state of deepened self-awareness
2. Empathy: creating a state of consciousness and compassion that allows a deeper reading of verbal and non-verbal communication
3. Intuitive Accessibility: dramatically improving your ability to consciously evoke and utilize intuitive insights
4. Deep Engagement: learning new dialogue skills that bring depth, breadth, and clarity to challenging situations and our states of consciousness

BENEFITS TO YOU:

This training seminar will focus on:

- integrating the impact of being and doing
- the essential elements of creating a transformational dialogue leading to truth telling
- applying these skills to create a high-value/high-performance coaching practice

Coaching at the Core is a three-day seminar – an introductory program that provides the overview and basic principles underlying this transformational process. From this seminar, you will be able to immediately apply a core set of skills in your coaching practice. Investment in this workshop will provide a high return in gaining mastery in your personal and professional life.

After completion of Coaching at the Core, there follows The Learning Lab, an extended curriculum in which you gain a greater sense of presence and a broadening of skills to acquire your embedded wisdom. As a result, you will then move into a broader application of these skills in the specialized arenas of decision-making, authentic leadership, team development, and accelerated problem-solving. More details regarding this coaching curriculum will be found on the "Seminar" page under Training and Supervision at www.rwjue.com
